

Cello in a Box is Wrapping the World...One Gift at a Time

Helena, Montana – [September 19, 2007] - Cello in a Box® Company has the knack for wrapping up the world...one gift at a time with quality award winning items that will not break the bank!

In business since 2005 and boasting over 1000 representatives Cello in a Box® is only getting better and better by offering award winning gift wrap sets and items that will never break the bank. When purchased, these items are easy on your wallets yet deliver extraordinary presentation capabilities, which helps for gift-giving, creation, and to make more sales by enhancing your own business items with Cello's.

Simply put people love beautiful looking items. You can put a roll of toilet paper in one of Cello's bags and it will still look beautiful. Aside from the presentation aspect, having inexpensive and quick access to beautiful packaging in ones own home makes it easier than ever to quickly wrap up almost any type of gift. No need to run to the store for one bag that may cost anywhere from $3.00-$5.00 dollars in a heartbeat. Once someone purchases Cello's items, they are hooked, hook, line, and sinker, thus wrapping up the world, with wonderful items, one gift at a time.

Founded and owned, by Lonna Weidemann in 2005, Cello in a Box®, Company offers presentation packaging that will not break the bank. Wholesale purchasing is also available.
