

Tap Into the Wonderful World of Press Releases and ads to help YOU Make More Sales!

For_Immediate_Release...

Brooklyn, New York [June 22, 2007] - While How to Guide's primary products are how-to guides offering informational resources, tips, ideas and more enabling individuals to make more sales. How to Guide is also now offering Press Release and ad services to go along with their motto that "We are here to help YOU make more sales." It is How to Guide's mission to help people in all fields, but geared towards to the work-at-home individual, to succeed by offering products and services that are low cost thus not breaking anyone's bank roll in the process.

The ultimate question is, does this avenue of advertising and marketing really work? Yes it most certainly does! Whether editors, consumers or both read what it is you have to say, you are reaching out to more people than you could ever get to on your own. More people means more potential customers, and more customers naturally means more sales!
