

www.life-words-faith.com Has the "Write" Stuff!

Whithall, PA – [August 30, 2007] - www.life-words-faith.com definitely has the "write" stuff offering business services; freelance writing services and Virtual Assistant services that is sure to lead you to the "write" path to success.

With the undeniable growth and expansion of Virtual Assistants today, it is no wonder why employers are seeking outsourced assistance these days. In the first place employers are not obligated to pay a days salary, nor insurance for that matter as VA's are Independent Contractors and are paid hourly, per job. Needless to say this is where www.life-words-faith.com comes into play offering everything from newsletters and brochures to term papers, reports and Administrative/Executive support. Why have a full-time employee when you can have your own Virtual Assistant working with you minus all those expenses!

"Words are an important part of our life, it is how we communicate, how we share our thoughts, and our experiences. It is my goal to provide the detailed information your business needs to succeed in a competitive market." Kelly Croslis, Owner, www.life-words-faith.com www.life-words-faith.com is also offering quite a few specials to get your started on this "write" path to success! With the beginning of the New Year, there is sure to be hours of research, writing, planning and brainstorming. Let Ms. Croslis work closely with you to ensure your reports are written in your voice. New clients will receive one free hour for every two hours of service. If that isn't enough, there is also a Virtual Assistant special! New clients will receive two free hours for every six hours billed. Returning clients will receive 10% off the regular rate with the referral of new clients.

Founded in 2006, life-words-faith offers Virtual Assistant services, articles, essays, research and much more.
